An attack has been anticipated by Gene Maj. Philips, of the Illinois Ninth, has found two powder houses and many other contraband articles, and is actively engaged looking for more. A large smount of four was selected at the dupot as belonging to the enemy; it was marked "Port Gibson, Mina." Citizens of Padacah are constantly leaving—some for Illinois, more for the country. The steamer Constogs took a small boat loaded with tobacce; it tried to escape. It is believed to be contraband.

[Special Dispatch to the Chicago Tribuna.]

The expedition sent to Paducah night before last, was composed of gun boats Taylor and Concatogs, steamers Graham and Terry; carrying Gol. Payne's and Col. Staturar's regiments, Col. Wagner's stilllery, six pieces of Col. Smith's battery, and ax 64-pounders, In all, 1,800 men with ploty of provisions. The expedition was delayed at Mound City, and did not reach Paducah till 8 o'clock yesterdsy morning. Secoration flags were flying all over the city, but they came down as soon as the expedition came in sight. Gen. Tighman and staff also left the city very suddenly, as did the recruiting officer with a company of secessionists from Paducah. The rolling stock of the railroad was all sent South before our troops could land. Our army inneed without any opposition. The stores were all closed. Gen. Grant sent for the Mayor and n day, we have passed out of the domain of Gab, and entered the region of Facts. The sword has become the arbiter. The "Qrator's Own Book," the Dictionary of the proudest army and put a host to flight We do not hold out assurances of a vic-tory; but we believe in it. Next week (we write on Saturday) will probably conour national existence. As its events are revealed, so shall we rejoice or mourn.

The fiendish outrage perpetrated by a squad of robels near St. Joseph, Mo, whereby a hundred innocent passengur, of both sexes and various agea, were thrown headlong to the bottom of a river, and either killed outright or so mangled that death would have been a welcome deliverance, will perhaps open the eyes of some persons who have affected to believe that Gen. Fremont's procla-mation was unjustifiably severe. A more horrid slaughter of finarmed and unsus-pecting travelers cannot be found in histo-ty. If the persons on board the train had pecting travelers cannot be found in many ry. If the persons on board the trafa had been soldiers of Gen. Pope's army the act would be prenounced cowardly, barbarous and murderous. But they were peaceful and helpless, entertaining no thought of harming Missouri, and having no power to do so it they would. The deed was one of ness. No reason but devillah creekty can be assigned for it.

The groams of the maimed and the agonies of the dying were the sole reward sought for by the miscreams who planned it. If they had desired merely to destroy a railroad it would have been sufficient to have bettered the littless existing days. But that burned the bridge entirely down, but that was not the end they had in view. Killchaid of hurting semutody. Have not the rebelt yet taught us how to deal with rebellion? If they have not, the lesson never will be learned. If Gen. Pope does not the soldier we take him to be.

The few men in the country whom long and unscrupulous partisanship has demented, are just now exceedingly solicitious to know what Gen. Fremont will do with the slayes of the rebells, who will be liberated by the operation of his newly with the slayes of the rebels, who will be liberated by the operation of his newly proclaimed martial law. The answer is easy:

I. They will go to work for wages, and, as freement ears their livelihood. That they can do this latter is clear enough from the fact that heretofore they have not only carned bread for themselves, but hread and most for their matters. Or, II. They will enter the service of the Government of the United States, as an incomplete the service of the Government of the United States, as an incomplete the service of the Government of the United States, as an incomplete the service of the Government of the United States, as an incomplete the service of the control of the United States, as an incomplete the system of allotment tickets now used in the anyty, or some equivalent eyelem, by which the family of the volunteer may draw such portions of his pay as he may request. The whole operation is very simple, and can be trustered from the navy to the army withing the law of the cannot be sent the service of the cannot be sent the service of the ser

The They will enter the service of the Government of the United States, as servants in the camps, as scotts, as laborers in trenches and on fordifications, or as loyal lovers of the United, with musicus in their hands, to fight the Comanches, the Creeks, the Apaches, and the other red savages in the employ of the rebel States; (or, HIL In Missouri they can be organized.

III. In Missouri they can be organized into symds and railroad bridges which these costs in the same of thirty six meetins; is the first payment to be made in our midst, are tearing up and burning down, for the purpose of destroying women, children and other non-combatants.

Here are three uses to which the negroes may be put. Were they all adult males, we should prefer to see them placed as soldiers in the army—the school in which to learn regular habits in the time of peace, and self-reliance in the hour of difficulty and danger. But as women and children will be included in those set free, the first resource for livelihood is that to which a great majority of them must resort. In this climate hay are not a laxy and improvident race. In spite of all that is ignorantly and wickedly said, the colored men of our large cities are as far from paymerism and as free from crime as any other class of people, sithough the inducements to exertion, by reason of their low social status, are cut off. That the larger in Missouri, accustomed to daily toll, will, when the priceless boson of free dom is conferred, turn out a graceless are as far from paymerism and as the free from crime as any other class of people, sithough the inducements to exertion, by reason of their low social status, are cut off. That the finger in Missouri, accustomed to daily toll, will, when the priceless boson of free dom is conferred, turn out a graceless are as far from paymerism and as the first payment when the priceless to have a constrained. A braver in the slaves of the rabel, these needs to have been properly identified as being the person designed in the same, and the first payment when the payment we have a proper and the first payment when the payment will be included in those set free, the first payment when the payment we have a proper and the first payment when the payment

They had heard of the victory at Haiteras Indet, but were writing confirmation of the new by the Southern newspapers, which they receive by express from Fairfax Court Hone. They have no intrendments at Hint Hill. They estimate their own forces in Flightla at one hundred thousand men. Middiston says that the states, except in rare instances, are not allowed to have arms. Large numbers of segroes in Virginia had been impressed into the service, and had been employed on the intrendments at Manassas and as servants. He states that when he left South Carolina the greatest vigiliance was excertised with regard to the slaves. In many instances they were not allowed to go to church, and heing seen together in groups of three or four, except at work, they were severely poulshed. The alaves believed that the war pre alsed good to be made free. With very ware exceptions they would run away, had they the opportunity.

when a wind the right. We quote from the N.Y. Times:

During the civil war which, about thirty years ago, broke out in Fortnest, between the Queen, Donna Maris and Don Miguel, she established a blockade of porte along the coast of her own kingdom. While this was in force a British steam vessel, the Lord of the Isles, aucceeded in tunning it, and entered the port of St. Martinho, a town then in possession of the insurents, and those discharged a cargo for the use of the Queen's rebellions subjects. The vessel, however, was soon after attacked and captured by Admiral Napier, (a British aulject, at that time in the navalesevire of the Queen of Fortugal,) and having been taken shawful prize, proceedings were had for his condemnation, according to the law of Portugal, in the "supreme Tribunal of Marine," at Labon, and by this Court the vessel was condemned as lawful prize on the 2rth September, 1833. No reclamation was made by the British Government, and on the case coming up, in another connection, before the initial Court of Common Pleas, the Court heid that the jodg nemt of the Fortugese Prize Court, whether on the ground of an altempted breach of blockade, or on that of an ait-tampted supply of contribund goods, was concluded applying the contribund goods, was concluded and the case of the Queen of Fortugal, and accordingly dismussed the suit of the plaintiff. avail themselves of this route.

Regimental Sands.

A concerted movement is at present being inaugurated throughout the New England and Middle States, to supply each of the regiments henceforth to be organized, with complete and thoroughly equipped bands. This plan is already beginning to attract attention in the West, and it is understood to be Gen. Fremont's desire that all the Western regiments shall be similarly provided.

In the unavoidable bustle and comfusion incident to the preliminary organization of regiments to meet the pressing necessities of war, very properly the more substantial demands have been first answered. Music, being considered a matter of taste and fancy, has been thrust saids than far to make room for weightier matters, but its influence is now for weightler matters, but its influence is now making itself felt, and imperative calls come from the various comps and regiments for

SMALL BUSINESS.—John O'Connor, driver of express wagon No. 323, was arrested on Saturday, upon complaint of a Randolph street fruit dealer, for charging him fifty cents for insuling a heavy lead of apples from the Illimois Central to the Northwestern depot. The Court, unable to secertain which was the smallest, the case or the fruit dealer, distinct the field The Wisconsin regiments found their gothern regiments from the field The Wisconsin regiments found in their own ranks material for excellent bands, and we suggest to the various regiments of the country will soon suffice for excellent bands, and we suggest to the various regiments found their own ranks material for excellent bands, and we suggest to the various regiments. bands, and we suggest to the various regi-ments of this State that a similar search here beside rations, clothing and bounty at the end of the war for each rank. These certainly are inducements which should rapidly fill up the ranks of the regimental bands.

The importance of good music in the camp and upon the field cannot be too highly estimated. Nothing so kindles the soldier's enthusiasm next to the glorious cause to which he devotes himself, so nerves his arm and inspires him with courage as the thrilling tones of martial brass sounding the charge or the patriotic strains of his country rising above the din of the battle field. Nothing so exhilarating, so soothing and refreshing after the hard fought contest as the well remembered lays of home, conjuring visions of the absent and filling the night with melody. But our regiments have music, for "he who hath no music in his send is fit for trasson."

A secessionist on Change!

There are men in this world whose andacity would melt an iceberg who hug to their souls the the fond debusion that they can iterate and reiterste their foul-mouthed and treasonable acutiments in a free, Union-loving community, where even their presence is hardly tolerated,

A New RESTAURANY AND LADIES' PATTING SALOGE.—Passers by the corner of Madason and South Clark street cannot fall to have so-ticed extensive and thorough transformation in the store in the martile block late a drug store, but now fitted up in the finest metropolitan style as a Restaurant and Ladies' Dining Saloon, for which it is an excellent location, and its opening most timely for Fair week, where our risitors from the country, and especially the ladies, will find it just the place to get their meak without having to resort to hotels in their visits to this city for the day. See Mrs. Johnson's advertisement. The setablishment will open on Wednesday next.

From the day of their opening until the present, this splendid satalishment has enjoyed a run of custom which has enabled, as it cortainly has induced, a no small army of the traveling public to speak its praises. From such a verdict there is no appeal, and judged by this verdict we may condently say that no hotel in the United States outrons the Sherman in the art of pleasing its reveals. Prepared only and sold by Smith & Dwyer, Chemists and Druggists, opposite the Tremont House, on Lake street. Non-Forgetting Life Insurance.—It is no only a duty to insure your life, if you have family dependent upon you, but it is als your duty to insure it in such a manner as t make it certain that you will not at last fail in the object you desire to accomplish. The old and well known New York Life Insurance Company grant policies (premium payable in ten years annually, eemi annually, or quarterly,) with non forfeture clause, whereby, if the assure discontinues payment of premium at an time, the company will issue a new policy pro-rate with the amount of premium already paid without further expense. This is the only company that has adopted the non-for-feiting policy. The company also grant poli-cies in all the forms adopted by other leading life, insurance companies, and we feel warlife insurance companies, and we feel wr ranted in saying that its terms are as favoral as are those of any company in the Union.

Passing Countries in Mossin.—Almeria C. Stone, for many years a travelling agent for Fairbanks & Greenless's scale manufacturers, was arrested on Saturday for attempting to pass a counterfelt bill at a drug store in exchange for a box of pills. The bill in question was a counterfelt ten on the Harrison Branch of the State Bank of Ohio at Cadis. The druggist informed him of the nature of the note, but he persisted in its genuinemes. This fact in connection with contradictory statements made to a policeman who was called in, led to his arrest. The affair is a very mysterious as well as unfortunate one, as the prisoner has always borne an unblemished reputation, and uninterruptedly enjoyed the confidence of the well known firm he represented. The police magistrate before whom the case was brought continued the case for a further hearing on Tuesday morning.

FLAO PRIESENTATION.—A besuiffed flag was presented to the Douglas Brigade on Thursday afternoon by J. Logan Chipman, Esq., on behalf of Miss Marian Stuart, the daughter of Lieut. Col. David Stuart. The regiment was formed in a hollow square inside of which the presentation was made, Miss Stuart and a group of ladies on horseback and in carriages, being present to witness it. The flag was received by Col. Webb, in a brief and ratiotic response, which created as favorable an opinion of his power as a speaker as he has already established of his qualities as a soldier. The color company was marched to the front, and the flag was given in charge of the colorgand by the Colonci—the band playing the Star-Spangled Banner, which ended the ceremony.

A JOLLY JACK.—Robert Mager, a newly arrived sallor, overloyed at his release from the watery main, took to the opposite extreme and became so intoxicated at a dance house on Saturday, that he magnanimously presented his watch to the first comer, distributed his money for largess to whom it might concern, dumalished sundry doors and knocked down three women. This trip cost him a three dollar fine at the Police Court.
